Continuation of 11. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: The Applicant argues: (1) The cited references do not reference citations or legal documents.

The Examiner disagrees. The Applicant claims in part a third database and wherein the retrieved work product documents are converted into a markup language and subsequently indeved based on claitations and text to permit the work product documents to be search by the searching means. The cited art teaches teaches a third database (i.e. internet database)(see Figure 1; see also paragraph [0042]) and wherein the retrieved work product documents (i.e. legacy data)(paragraph [0052]) are converted into a markup language (i.e. "c. converts legacy data into XML document), [paragraph [0052]) and subsequently indexed based on citations and text to permit the work product documents to be searched by the searching means (The Examiner notes that this limitation is an intended use of leveraging XML language that uses document-type-definition (DTD). Moreover, the indexed is based on citation and exit, which as a whole are viewed as metadata criteria in the art of indexing and therefore facilitates the XML document to be indexed and searched. The Examiner does not contend that citations are references to previous court decisions or authoritative writings, knowere, because the limitation of citation is used as a criteria in indexing, the citations (or the value thereof), are viewed as metadata. In addition, these documents are parsed into memory creating a tree structure (its, indexed).
